

W. P. WALTON.

THE sweet moral of scandal which the republicans have rolled under their tongues with so much relish and which their papers have given so much publicity to in regard to the youthful indiscretions of Gov. Cleveland, has proved on investigation by worthy and prominent men to be about as follows: "Many years ago, when the Governor was 'sowing his wild oats,' he met this woman, with whom his name had been connected and became intimate with her. She was a widow and not a good woman by any means. Mr. Cleveland, learning this, began making inquiries about her, and discovered that two of his friends were intimate with her at the same time with himself. When a child was born, Cleveland, in order to shield his two friends, who were both married men, assumed the responsibility of it. He took care of the child and mother like a man and did everything in his power for them; and he provided for them until the woman became a confirmed victim to alcoholism and made it impossible by her conduct for him to have anything to do with her. He never separated the mother and child, nor did he do anything to injure the woman. He was throughout the whole affair a victim of circumstances. He accepted responsibilities that not one man in a thousand would have shouldered and acted honorably in the matter. In short, Cleveland's character in Buffalo stands as one in which the citizens take pride, because of his good judgment and sterling integrity in all matters, and he has and will continue to receive the support, in his nomination for the presidency, of the best class of all the opponents of Mr. Blaine." The strict constructionists and physical inclined may hold up their hands in holy horror at this, but we doubt if the lives of 90 men out of 100 will bear as close scrutiny and come out as honorably. The same old scandal was worked for all it was worth when Cleveland ran for Governor of New York and it did not hurt him then, as he was elected by 192,518 majority, nor will it hurt him now with honest men. There was no promise of marriage and no seduction and while hundreds of men would have yielded as he did to passion, there's hardly a man who would have so honorably atoned for his indiscretion.

THE Louisville Post has information, which is deemed authentic, and their course bears out the assertion, that the New York Sun and the Cincinnati Enquirer have sold out to the republicans and will support Blaine and Logan. Something better was expected of the former, but the latter has never been governed by principles or politics, but has ever kept its weather eye open to the main chance, ready to jump in the direction of the largest pile of money. Gath is to do the Blaine work for it. The Sun's course towards Cleveland has been most contemptible and it has made it unworthy of the respect of honest men of either party.

THE Breckenridge News, published by J. D. Babbage and edited by that spicy and ready writer, Wallace Gruelle, is growing and spreading like a green bay tree. In its last issue it says that it is now in a home of its own, a handsome and commodious brick edifice on one of the best business corners in town. It has bought and is now being printed upon a new improved Campbell power press, and on the whole, feels uncommonly jolly. We have enjoyed all of these facilities for five or six years and are therefore in good condition to warmly congratulate our friends on their success, which is as great as it is deserved.

THE mayor of Lexington thinks he will solve the social evil problem by issuing notices to the keepers and inmates of the houses of prostitution to leave the city within ten days. There are 25 such houses in the city and over 200 fallen women. The question as to how to deal with these unfortunate has puzzled the brains of social reformers for centuries without being nearer to solution than at first, and the mayor of Lexington will find that if he does succeed in closing the houses of ill-fame in his city, the evil will break out in a more deplorable form than at present conducted.

MURAT HALSTEAD is going to start a republican newspaper in New York city. It will be a one-cent evening paper and will last during the campaign. Murat is the most disgusting partisan of the day and his new enterprise will no doubt reek with crime and filth. Perhaps his wicked partner, Deacon Richard Smith, was averse to his paper being made the receptacle of such matter, hence the move. The losses on the new concern are to be made good by the national republican committee.

FOR once the Virginia Court of Appeals, as organized by Boss Mahone, has refused to do his bidding. John S. Wise, whose only chance and that a slim one, for reelection to Congress, lay in getting that court to require the keeper of the rolls of the Legislature to strike out the re-apportionment bill, which was passed last winter over the Governor's veto, petitioned to that effect, but to the surprise of all democrats, it was unanimously refused. The bill, it is said, shula most of the readjusters out.

NINE men contested with Mrs. Lucas, wife of the jailer of Davies county, who was murdered while trying to protect his prisoners, for the remainder of her husband's term, but the gallant voters came to her rescue and elected her by a plurality of 318. The inextinguishable desire for office springs eternal in the average Kentuckian's breast, that it makes him forget both his gallantry and courtesy. Mrs. Lucas certainly deserved the office.

THAT dirty old bird, who would defile his own nest, Cassius M. Clay, writes to the New York Sun to say that he wants to vote for Blaine and Logan, but he is fearful of doing so since "the solid South avows the right and sets upon it, as proven in the Danville and Copiah murders, to kill any voter who acts with the republican party when it pleases them to do so; and they have sealed their avowal with the blood of free white men. If I am allowed by the good Providence, under the invitation of the national republican committee, I will be along before the November election and in Massachusetts or in New York city will attempt to make good my assertion that the solid South is responsible for these outrages. Shall I, he cries, "vote and risk all, or shall I die and give no utterance to my voiceless woe?" Our advice is that he go and shoot himself as a partial atonement for his dirty, slimy slander. He knows as well as we do that he can vote without let or hindrance and like Annanias he should be struck dead for stating an untruth. His life has been drawn out to four years beyond the allotted four score and ten, for a very poor purpose, if it be to defame his neighbors and friends.

THE Louisville Exposition will be opened at 2 P. M. next Saturday by Gov. Knott, assisted by Gov. Porter, of Indiana, and President Bennett H. Young. Addresses will be made by Mayor Jacob, Senator Beck and others and at 3:30 the opening concert will be played by Cappa's band. At 7 there will be a grand illumination of the building by 6,000 Edison electric lights. Also the Jemine lights will be lighted about the grounds. At 8 P. M. will be the grand inaugural concert, with a special programme, assisted by a chorus of 500 voices, under the direction of Prof. A. O. Schuler. After this, addresses will be made by the Hon. James McKenzie and other distinguished men of the State. The display is fast approaching completion and the beggarly array of empty space will not greet the eye, as was the case at the opening last year.

WE are glad to observe that the officers of the law are beginning to make war on that most uncouth and uncouth garment the "Mother Hubbard" dress. In Mattoon, Ill., the police issued an order that no woman should appear upon the streets wearing a Mother Hubbard dress unbelted, the person violating the order being liable to arrest and fine. The authorities allege that the Mother Hubbard costume tends to an indecent exposure of the person and is therefore immoral. It transforms a pretty figure into the shapeless proportions of a mill sack and makes a tidy woman appear as a sloven. Congress should pass a law making the wearing of one either in public or in private a high crime and misdemeanor.

IT is enough to make a man sick with the silliness of political methods to read that in the Second Maryland district the Congressional convention took 1,353 ballots and adjourned without result and that in the Seventh Congressional district of Missouri 579 ballots were taken with the last identical with the first.

SOMETIMES the signal service hits the mark in its predictions about the weather, but any of us can do that. It more often gets left, however, as was the case Saturday night, when it had predicted that there would be frost on the highlands of Ohio. Instead, it was the warmest night for a month.

A WOMAN living near Knoxville gave birth to four girls averaging four pounds each, all of whom are living and with the mother are doing well. The same, however, can not be said of the father. The terrible misfortune has prostrated him and he is not expected to survive.

Letter From Louisville.

To the Editor of the Interior Journal:

Preparations are being made in Indiana for the fiercest campaign ever known in that closely contested State. The leaders of both parties are continually in consultation and a great fight is imminent. Scores of stump speakers from all over the Union will be turned loose upon the hardy Hoosiers and further on, in the autumn time, that modern motor, "soap," so feelingly referred to by the republican leaders at their big banquet in '84, will be brought out by the Blainites and freely used. Indiana and New York will be the battle grounds.

"Old Saddle Bags," Joseph E. McDonald, and the "Tail Sycamore" of the Wabash, Dan Voorhees, are expected to lead the hosts.

From present "pointers" Hon. Albert S. Willis will have no opposition for Congress in this district.

The affair between Messrs. Halldeman and O'Sullivan at Crab Orchard occasioned considerable talk in this city. It seems that what occurred at the Springs was only the culmination of two years of bitterness. The difficulty is to all appearances over, though there has been no reconciliation. Mr. O'Sullivan is still at his post as managing editor.

Booker Reed has all his own way for mayor up to this date. The opposition threatens to bring out John G. Baxter.

Judge Hargis has squarely settled down to the practice of the law with Mr. Isaac Palmer Caldwell, under the most favorable auspices. They had a fine clientele clinched before they formed the partnership and they are said to already have something like thirty cases in the Court of Appeals.

The Exposition will open next Saturday with great splendor. There will be an immense improvement upon the display of last year. The county exhibits will be one of the most interesting features.

Rich as she is in agricultural resources and historical associations, "Old Lincoln" should appear herself.

The Wall Street Bank went up yesterday on account of the shortage of its cashier, who is behind $200,000.

Prohibition gained ground at several points in this State at the August elections. Local Option was adopted in the counties of Hopkins, Owen and Breckinridge, as well as in several isolated election precincts in other counties.

According to the meteorological summary for July, compiled at the signal office last month was exceptionally cool, being in fact the coolest July in 13 years. In July, 1871, the average temperature was 74°; last month it was 74°.

"We, the undersigned citizens of Lincoln and Garrard, do hereby certify that we have had our wheat threshed with Bonanza & Co.'s New Bonanza Threshing Machine, and we give great credit to the work it did for us. Steve Broadbent, colored, was arrested and confined in jail yesterday for carrying concealed weapons.

GOLDEN PATENT FLOUR is giving splendid satisfaction. Use it if you want the best bread. Sold only by T. R. Walton.*

The Richmond Fair begins to-day and promises to be unusually attractive. The R. C. has put down tickets to $1.25 for round trip so that all our citizens who wish to spend a pleasant, profitable day at a very small cost can do so.

SUPERINTENDENT.—Judge J. M. Phillips has resigned the balance of his term as commissioner of schools and Rev. J. A. Hagle has qualified as superintendent. He will have his office with Judge Brown and will appoint office days next week.

THAT "Animals" at Hustonville continues to display his kicking qualities and still without cause. Of course we have't the files, but our recollection which is rarely at fault, supported by that of others, is that Thursday's awards of the Hustonville Fair were not published in the Advocate till Friday, a week after, last year. The files also can tell the matter.

The Irvine Riles will give a Military Hop at their armory in Richmond, Wednesday night, 13th, to which we acknowledge invitation.

Just received a bill line of Queensware and Glassware which we will sell very cheap. Call and examine our stock. S. S. Myers & Co.

LANCASTER.—The young ladies of the Presbyterian church will give an entertainment at the City Hall on next Thursday evening, 14th inst., for the benefit of their Sabbath school. All are invited and expected.

REWARD.—A great many inspectors on the Stanford and Hustonville Telephone line are broken by thoughtless boys or designing scamps. There is a heavy penalty for such an offense and the President of the company will pay $10 for information that will lead to the arrest and conviction of any such offender.

THE young people of the Mt. Zion, Given church and Willow Grove neighborhoods enjoyed a delightful social at the residence of Mr. Albert Villatin Talbot Smith on the evening of the 9th inst. Nearly one hundred were present and in the crowd was quite a number of visiting young ladies from a distance. The excellent manner in which everything was entertained made it an evening of genuine enjoyment. Mr. Smith is a wealthy young bachelor, but Madam Roman says his days of single blessedness are numbered.

THE Stanford Race Ball Club is in high feather; they have beat somebody at last. The Williamsburgs, learning that they were in bad luck this year, grew audacious and challenged them and yesterday afternoon the contest was had. It was an interesting and exciting one and ended 17 to 21 in favor of Stanford. A very large crowd witnessed the game and enjoyed it greatly. Harry Webster's fine horse team was in attendance and furnished some splendid music. The Stanford boys will give them another chance on their own grounds at Williamsburg on the 22d.

The largest and most attentive that we have seen in many a day witnessed the excellent portrayal of that pleasing melodrama, "The Lancashire Lass," at the Opera House last night, by the ever welcome Harry Webster and Company. Harry himself was in excellent trim and as the "Party by the name of J. J. J." was ever at hand to reward virtue and thwart evil intentions. He is one of the very best comedians on the stage and a genuine good fellow. The company has been successful both in numbers and ability and several of their deserve special praise, but the performance did not close till midnight and we have not space now. The work of the excellent orchestra was highly complimentary to the whole entertainment was greatly enjoyed. Mr. Webster was highly pleased with the favorable reception and looks to return one grateful thanks to the audience.

—There was some surprise Friday morning when the news was whispered over the wires from Lancaster that the dashing Mr. Will Hays and the pretty Miss Lizzie Beazley, daughter of Mr. Allen Beazley, had just been united for life by Rev. J. R. Peoples. They had been "counting" for some time, but nobody knew the climax was so near or that matters had progressed so far. We sincerely hope that neither will ever have cause to regret the action but remember with growing affection the bright morning that saw them united.

—Squire A. J. Pike and others killed a large black bear last Thursday near Pine Hills. The bear was first seen by a lady who was going home from Pine Hill depot. It stopped, sat down on its haunches, viewed the lady for a few moments and passed on into the woods in the direction of Somerset. Of course the lady was scared very badly and did not know what to do for a while. She soon recovered, went back to Pine Hill and told that she had seen a bear in the road about half way up Pine Hill. This information was soon given to A. J. Pike who saddled his horse, took his gun and dog and was soon at the place where the bear had been seen. The dogs took the scent and trailed for some time and finally started him up and then the fun commenced. They ran it for about three hours before it would take a tree. It at last went up a large white oak, after it had run all over the Roundstone hills and had crossed Roundstone creek and gone back on the head of Pine branch. By this time there were about 15 men in the place, armed with shot guns, rifles, muskets, pistols, clubs and every other article of warfare known to the civilized world. Pike fired his double barrel gun loaded with buckshot into him and he fell to the ground, but quickly jumped up and ran off in the direction of Roundstone again. The dogs pressed him so close that he took another tree, when 6 or 8 shots were fired into him and he fell to the ground and was soon killed. The bear's meat was divided into 12 parts in order that they all might say that they had eaten bear meat. Pike got the hide for which he was offered $5. Something had been killing geese and chickens in that neighborhood for some time but no one suspected bratin.
